

DIVERSITY WEEK KICKOFF

to feature

WRITER, LGTBQ+ ADVOCATE

GABBY RIVERA

Gabby Rivera, the first Latina to write for Marvel Comics, will be the guest speaker for the kickoff event. Rivera is a queer, Bronx-born, Puerto Rican author. Her solo series "America" features the queer Latina, America Chavez. Rivera's debut novel, "Juliet Takes a Breath," earned rave reviews and was re-published by Penguin Random House. She is the writer and creator of b.b. free, an original comic series with BOOM! Studios and has a podcast, Joy Revolution. Rivera also advocates for LGBTQ+ youth and speaks across the country.
